A MODERN KITCHEN

A cook, who wanted to get a job, came to speak to Mrs Smith’s house. She asked her what dishes they liked to have and the mistress said they had three meals a day and liked to have ham and eggs for breakfast, a vegetable soup and beefsteak for lunch, chicken or fish for dinner. Then Mrs Smith took the cook to the kitchen and showed her the electric cooker, the washing and drying machines, a dishwasher, a microwave, a toaster, a mixer and a mincer.

“It won’t be difficult for you to cook in our house,” she said. “I don’t think so,” answered the cook and began to put on her coat. She was going to leave the house when Mrs Smith asked in surprise, “Aren’t you going to stay?” “No,” said the cook, “your kitchen isn’t good for me. It’s an engineer you want, not a cook.”
